getting around

Getting around town is simple with these affordable transportation options. Whether you are simply going across campus or to downtown Chicago, the University of Chicago is a hub for efficient transportation resources.

CHICAGO TRANSIT AUTHORITY

The CTA operates one of the nation's premier public transportation systems with a large network of buses, elevated trains, and subways around the city. Ventra Cards are accepted on all CTA vehicles and can be purchased at all train stations or online at ventrachicago.com.

TIP: How long is the wait for a bus? Track it on your phone or computer at uchicago.transloc.com.

The most popular Hyde Park bus routes include:

#6: JACKSON PARK EXPRESS

The #6 bus connects Hyde Park and downtown and is a good way to get to the Art Institute, Michigan Avenue, and Millennium Park. This route runs express from 47th Street to 11th Street/Museum Campus, making it one of the fastest ways to get to the Loop.

#2: HYDE PARK EXPRESS

The #2 runs between Hyde Park and the Loop on weekdays during morning and evening rush hours only. Fast, efficient, and sometimes very crowded, this bus is perfect for those headed to South Campus—the Law School, Harris, Logan, etc.

#55: GARFIELD

The #55 bus is popular for those going to the Red or Green Line train stations at Garfield or to Midway Airport.

TIP: Be sure to take a bus that says "Midway!" Some #55s end their route at "St. Louis," still 20 blocks from Midway Airport.

CTA ON CAMPUS

The CTA also operates two buses that are free to anyone with a University of Chicago ID: routes #171 and #172. Each of these buses circulates students, faculty, and staff between campus and the immediate Hyde Park area, making them a convenient option for the entire University of Chicago community. Track their exact routes on the TransLoc mobile application, on monitors in designated University buildings, or online at transitchicago.com.

UNIVERSITY OPERATED SHUTTLES

UGO SHUTTLES

The University offers its own shuttle service, UChicaGO, to provide safe, timely, and reliable transportation for students, faculty, and staff throughout campus and the surrounding area.

DAYTIME

Daytime shuttles operate starting at 5 a.m. on Monday through Friday mornings, with some routes offline at 10 a.m. and others that continue until 9 p.m.

NIGHTRIDE

The University NightRide shuttle program operates from 5 p.m. to 4 a.m. on Sunday through Wednesday nights, and 5 p.m. to 6 a.m. on Thursday through Saturday nights.

TIP: You can track UChicaGO shuttles through TransLoc on mobile applications and monitors in designated buildings. Pick-up locations can be found within two blocks of nearly every building on campus and each residence hall.

53RD STREET EXPRESS

The 53rd Street Express provides UCID holders with an efficient way to travel to the retail corridor on 53rd Street. As an express shuttle, stops are only made at certain locations including the new Harper Court development, Kimbark Plaza, and a multitude of the on campus dormitories. Check TransLoc or for a complete list of stops, please visit transportation.uchicago.edu.

METRA COMMUTER RAIL

The Metra Electric line makes a number of stops in Hyde Park and is the fastest and easiest way to get to downtown Chicago. With trains running every 10 minutes during rush hours, a one-way fare from the Hyde Park area to downtown Chicago costs $3.50 and multi-use cards can be purchased at every station. Check out the schedule at metr rail.com.

DESTINATIONS

Trains run north to Museum Campus, Van Buren Street, Millennium Station/Randolph, and south to Blue Island.

HYDE PARK STOPS

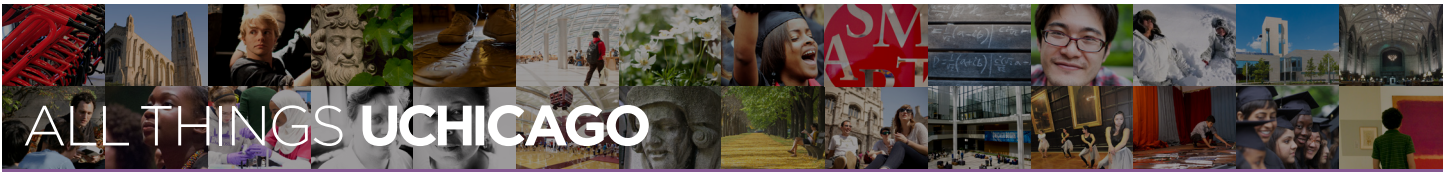

Lake Park and 47th Street; 51st/53rd Street; 55th/56th/57th Street; 59th Street/University of Chicago

Hours of Operation: Daily 6 a.m. to midnight. Weekends vary.

TIP: Pay before you ride! Conductors will collect a $5 surcharge for those who purchase tickets on the train if an agent or vending machine is available at the station where you boarded.
